

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

In a system wherein one or more controllable camera and one of more monitor for displaying video information received from the camera are connected to each other through a communication device, the states of all the cameras can be always understood at any monitor. Therefore, map management server software is provided to receive notifications of camera state information by all the cameras with the predetermined device, and transmit the camera state information to all the monitors.

00400001-01100